

Oakajee Port & Rail committed to building the mid-west

OPR, the preferred proponent for the Oakajee Port development, would like to thank the mid-west community and our partners for your valuable support and commitment to the future of the region.

We look forward to working together to construct a common user deepwater port and rail network. We are dedicated to delivering the best outcome for the region and to maximising the value for the local community and for Western Australia.

OPR believes the community's ongoing support has been instrumental to our successful appointment as the preferred proponent for the new multi-billion dollar project and we look forward to working closely with you all. We are committed to successfully delivering this critical project to realise the potential of the biggest emerging iron ore region of Western Australia.
